

RISE OF THE MACHINE

MB&F CEO Maximilian Büsser is the first to admit he's a huge Star Wars fan. Not only does his high-end table clock feature jumping hours, sweeping minutes, double retrograde seconds and a 40-day power reserve but, presumably, if your desk is ever invaded by a brigade of miniature Stormtroopers, this little dude has got your back. EPOA; MBANDF.COM

HEAVY METAL

We're not the only ones celebrating our 10th anniversary this year. MB&F is also ten – and like us, its team is essentially just a bunch of big kids. That's probably why the first of its anniversary pieces is an awesome little robot. Named Melchior, and created alongside L'Épée 1839, the 30cm-tall creation also happens to be an impeccably finished, 480-component mechanical table clock.

CLOCKS MB&F

I, ROBOT

Remember when your desk was happy with a stapler and some paper clips...