

square mile

SQUAREMILE.COM

TOM HIDDLESTON
TAKES ON KONG
BONUS
SEASON
THE BEATLES: UNSEEN
UFC
ACCESS ALL AREAS

EXCLUSIVE ACTOR, WRITER, PRODUCER, DIRECTOR
— AND ANGLOPHILE
STANLEY TUCCI TELLS US
WHY HE'S LOVING LONDON (AND HATING TRUMP)

PARMIGIANI FLEURIER

Toric Chronometre was the first watch ned by Michel Parmigiani – and sees a torming return in 2017. The coin-edged straight out of the 1930s), javelin hands date display at six o'clock make for a iful, simple aesthetic ideal for any wrist.

£14,800; PARMIGIANI.COM

PIAGET

Piaget's Altiplano collection is in many ways
the perfect slimline watch. Celebrating 60 years since the 9P movement started it all off, this sunburst-blue model comes in 38mm and 43mm sizes – and is all the excuse
you need to buy an ultrathin dress watch.

From £16,100; PIAGET.COM

GREUBEL FORSEY

There are complicated watches, then there's Grande Sonnerie complicated. To put it simply (well...), this a grandfather clock for your wrist: a watch capable of chiming the time as it passes the quarter on the quarters and the hours on the hours. Yeah, that.

CHF1,150,000; GREUBELFORSEY.COM

A LANGE & SÖHNE

Only A Lange & Söhne
could create an annual calendar as understated
as the 1815. Its perfectly balanced dial makes light
work of its moonphase,
day-date and month
complications, while under the surface a new manually wound calibre
L051.3 features a 72-hour
power reserve.

£175,000; ALANGE-SOEHNE.COM

